OHIO TAX WEBINAR COMING MAY 18TH: SOME OF THE BEST THINGS ARE FREE!

The Ohio Department of Taxation invites you to join in the next -- and still free -- Ohio Virtual Tax Academy (OVTA) on Wednesday, May 18.

The OVTA is a half-day (8am-noon), on-line learning event conducted quarterly since 2013. Thousands of small business people, tax professionals and others have attended to learn how to interact most effectively with Ohio's tax system.

This session, senior staff from the department will be discussing a variety of topics including:

- How Pass-Through Entities can best navigate the state tax system and how Ohio's residency standard applies with the Income Tax.
- An overview of the Public Utility Personal Property tax and how taxable value is established for pipelines and other public utility property.
- Tax issues impacting the transportation industry including record keeping requirements and the electronic filing system.

You will learn, and you can earn -- the course content qualifies for continuing education credits for legal and accounting professionals (3.0 C.L.E. credits and 3.5 C.P.E. credits).
