Repeating Popular Tax Webinar on 12/16

Due to popular demand the Ohio Department of Taxation (ODT) will present the webinar from November 18th again on the morning of December 16, 2015. During the free half-day event senior staff from ODT will discuss a variety of topics, including general changes in personal income tax for tax year 2015, the business income deduction and new calculation on business income, employer issues such as tax withholding and use of employment services. The program qualifies for professional credits (3.5 CPE and 3.0 CLE credits)

If you attended the November 18th event please let others participate and do not register for this webinar, as continuing education credits cannot be received for both sessions and the exact same topics will be discussed. The material will be available on our website and YouTube Channel for review in the near future.
