

Notice -- Ohio One-Day Tax Seminar Scheduled for July 30

All tax professionals are invited to attend the 2010 Ohio One-Day Tax Seminar on Friday, July 30. The event will be held in downtown Columbus at The Columbus, a Renaissance Hotel.

The seminar is sponsored jointly by the Institute for Professionals in Taxation and the Ohio Department of Taxation. It features an update from the department's subject matter experts on the latest developments in personal and business taxes, as well as auditing procedures and delinquent tax collections. Tax Commissioner Richard A. Levin will address the seminar during the noon hour.

More information about the seminar, including a schedule and registration, is available below:
